Dear

As you know, I have been studying the harp and would like to attend the Midwest Harp Festival in Tulsa, Oklahoma. This non-competitive harp camp is in its 10th year, teaching and demonstrating through its administration and clinicians that their primary goal is nurturing and teaching harpists with unselfish ambitions.

The Midwest Harp Festival includes ensemble and chamber music performing, a master class, workshops, private lessons, a solo competition, evening concerts, and several different ways for me to meet other harpists from all over the country who attend.

I would like to attend but cannot fund the tuition and housing alone, so I am asking you to be a part of this camp experience with me. During the next several months I will be working hard to raise the finances to attend with the Early Bird registration deadline of April 30, saving me $25 in my tuition. With this deadline my deposit of $150.00 is due. The regular deadline is June 7 with the same deposit due. All fees have to be paid on the festival's registration day of July 19.

For the basic full-time registration and campus housing with a roommate, the total cost for me to attend is $725.00. This does not include travel, or other options such as harp rental (if necessary), private lessons, the solo competition fee, or purchasing music in the Festival Store.

For $5 an hour or $60 for ½ day, any amount you are willing to donate will be appreciated. If you would like to support me in this opportunity, please write my name on a small note and send with the remittance to:

If you have any questions, please call me at the phone number above. You can also reach the Midwest Harp Festival at 9818-832-0934 or harpfestival@sbcglobal.net or you can check out their web page, www.midwestharpfestival.org.

Thank you for your consideration. You are appreciated!

Sincerely,
