Dear _____,

I am approaching you as an alumni registrant of the Midwest Harp Festival which takes place July 19 – 25th in Tulsa Oklahoma. There is an optional “Harp Check-up Workshop” by Peter Wiley on the Saturday afternoon (July 18) before the festival. I found it to be an amazing week-long camp for all ages, including your students and adults. This festival attempts to meet the needs of all ages of learning harpists in the ensemble rehearsals, the Solo Competition, concerts and activities. The clinicians show knowledge and preparedness in their workshops and performances. Also present at the festival is the Festival Store with harp accessories and harp music that you can try out by playing while you are there. No guessing at what it sounds like or how playable it is. At the end of the week is a banquet which features good food and fellowship.

What I love the most about this festival is _____
